Dear Långören Relatives!

Christmas is of course the feast when we gather in fellowship within the family and relatives. For all it may not be feasible, due to the long distance, finances or work.

Many people who work in health care or elder care or other areas with round the clock service may not be present at the Christmas table in communion with the family and enjoy table delicacies.

We can agree to give them an extra consideration for their support and make Christmas a festive occasion for those who can not cope on their hands due health or age.

As I write this Christmas letter, then Weather Service has issued a class 2 warning due an approaching storm. The rain is pouring down where I live, I have just come in after a jog with the dog Jack and outdoor clothing located in the dryer and the shoes stands in the shoe dryer running for the next round which must be the last run for today. Right now it's gray and dreary, plus degrees, the rain beat against the window but tomorrow is Lucia Day, and hopefully there will be some little Lucia with light hair and distributes heat in our house. Traditions is also something to be cared for at Christmas time, things will be as they always have been. The Christmas tree that has its fixed place and be dressed on a particular day and time etc. The religious message may well be interpreted in many ways and I choose to interpret it as the most important thing surely is that we care about and care for each other.

This summer is the time for our family reunion again, now it has soon been three years since the last meeting, we hope that the weather is with us again so we can work out to come to our Långören island. The date is set at 19 July and planning has begun. All members of the association are welcome to attend the meeting, convened by subscription list will be sent out to our members in the spring.

The compound has been our family records now been expanded to more than 25,000 entries, thanks to our genealogy researchers amazing work. Please check the related registry so that we can correct any inaccuracies and we of course would like that we get more members. Would you like to get involved in the association's work so please contact any of the members in the board.

Maybe give away a membership or a pin for Christmas?

The board would like to wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New 2014!

Regards

Jan-Anders Månsson
